BABY MURDER
CASE OPENEDJudge Overrules Motion
Of Defense To Strike
Out Testimony

LISBON, Feb. 8.—A motion by defense counsel to "throw out" the testimony of Chief of Police Harry R. Dushman of Wellsville, first witness to be called to the stand by the state in the first degree murder trial of Olive Mae Long, was a highlight of the first day's testimony.

The motion, made by Defense Attorney Raymond Buzzard after some cross examination of the witness, was denied by Judge Joel H. Sharp.

On direct examination Chief Dushman stated that after Mrs. Long was charged with murder of her 15-month-old daughter, on Oct. 8, 1945, she was advised of her right to obtain counsel. The officer stated she replied that she didn't want an attorney.

Sheriff George Hayes, who also participated in the investigation, told the court Mrs. Long told him at one time during the questioning "that she was at the river when the baby was thrown in." He also said a friend of Mrs. Long's, Harold B. Pugh of Wellsville, told her in front of officers one evening in Wellsville that he had seen her go to the river with two children and return with only one.

Chief Dushman said that she was Turn to BABY MURDER, Page 6

U. S. Must Stay Tough In World, Bruce Thomas Says

Bruce Thomas, war correspondent, warned Town Hall listeners at the high school last night that "Americans have got to get tough—and stay tough—in future world dealings."

Calling for Americans to realize that it is their business to help the conquered people of Europe and the world to come back, Thomas said this country is the only one which can accomplish it.

"We all know," he said, "that slums breed crime and disease and the present war-torn countries—the places where the roof of the world has been caved in—are now the breeding places of crime and disease among millions of people."

Intelligent Selfishness

Thomas pointed out that in helping these peoples to "come back," America must be "intelligently selfish."

Thomas said, "someone will blow our heads right off."

"The Father Coughlins, Charles Lindberghs and Gerald K. Smiths of this country would have us doing this," he said, "and thereby would have us ruin our country."

Bringing an urgent appeal to Sa-lemites to help the people in Europe with Victory clothing donations, Thomas cited numerous stories of actual war atrocities committed by the Germans, which he had personally seen proven by American and British intelligence men since the cessation of hostilities.

Vouches For Atrocities

A witness to the Belsen and Nuernberg trials, Thomas said one could multiply by 10 the atrocity stories reported there and the truth would be only partially approximated.

He described the Germans in the worst possible light, and explained that it was done in the cause of truth rather than one of hate.

Playing those returning Americans who express a dislike for the Allied and the "six years of hell" all those peoples have been exposed to during the war.

He said adequate aid for the Allied peoples is an impossible task this year and will be for several years, no transportation facilities are available to take enough supplies into those countries.

Introduced by Ralph Hawley, Town Hall chairman, Thomas answered questions for a half hour following his talk.

His War Talkers

He expressed his opinions on Russia, which he said has "always been very friendly and good to America" and a foe which this country would be wise to avoid. He expressed concern over people who continually wonder when this country will fight Russia.

Thomas said "we can talk our way into war with Russia, but it would be practically suicide and certainly foolish."

Thomas said another war would be fatal to the United States, because we have and probably always will fight on a "righteous indignation" basis, which would be a belated proposition in the current atomic age.

The next war will be operated on a 12 to 24 hour schedule and there will be no time for "righteous indignation," he said.

Agriculture as well as management and labor will be vitally affected by a change in the price of steel. Farmers have accepted price control as a means of preventing disastrous inflation. I hope your decision regarding price of steel can be delayed until the farmers' point of view can be presented to you."

About 150 farmers attending the closing sessions of the 34th annual farm and home week at Ohio State university approved sending the telegram to the President reading:

"Agriculture as well as management and labor will be vitally affected by a change in the price of steel. Farmers have accepted price control as a means of preventing disastrous inflation. I hope your decision regarding price of steel can be delayed until the farmers' point of view can be presented to you."

Fichter contended a decision raising steel prices more than $2.50 a ton as recommended by OPA Chief Chester Bowles "would blow the lid off OPA in the next 24 hours and start inflation."

U. S. AMBASSADOR TO BRAZIL QUILTS

(By Associated Press)

RIO DE JANEIRO, Feb. 8.—Adolf Berle, Jr., ambassador to Brazil, announced today he had submitted his resignation to President Truman.

Berle, a former secretary of state, presented his credentials as ambassador a little over a year ago, Jan. 30, 1945. He disclosed that President Truman had agreed to release him after the new government of President Gen. Eurico Gaspar Dutra had been installed in office. Gaspar Dutra's inauguration took place Jan. 31.

This is the second important change in the U. S. diplomatic service in South America recently. Spruille Braden, ambassador to Argentina, became an assistant secretary of state.

Hess Taken Ill After Exciting Day In Court

(By Associated Press)

NUERNBERG, Feb. 8.—Rudolf Hess, one of the defendants at the war crimes trial, was taken ill during the noon recess today and was moved from the courtroom to a cell for medical examination.

Hess was stirred to unusual excitement yesterday by the British presentation of the case against him. The British prosecution said Hess flew to England in 1941 with the avowed purpose of overthrowing the Churchill government and paving the way for a German dictatorship.

He read a book during most of this morning's court session while the Soviet chief prosecutor was making a 20,000-word statement.

Officials said Hess had suffered a minor attack of abdominal cramps and would be allowed to rest in his cell during the afternoon.

McCowan had two passengers, Genevieve and Ruth McCowan, in his car.

'Lock' Fults, Salem Grocer For
44 Years, Marks Anniversary

W. L. "Lock" Fults, 71, who operates Salem's oldest meat and grocery store, the Fults market, S. Broadway and W. Pershing st., has served the people of this community for 44 years, and is not even thinking of retiring.

On Feb. 8, 1902, 44 years ago today, Fults began his duties as clerk in W. A. Tetlow's meat market, in the same room he now occupies.

The same year, Nov. 1, he purchased a half interest in Tetlow's business, and this partnership was continued for 12 years when Fults bought Tetlow's interest.

In "the good old days" meat was handled differently than it is today, Fults said.

Opposition Seen To Truman
Plan to Feed U.S. Dark Bread

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—President Truman's bread-for-Europe program touched off rumblings of opposition in congress today, and it led Alf M. Landon to contend the Roosevelt administration was partly responsible for the food shortage abroad.

First tangible hint of disapproval was the introduction of a bill by Rep. Edwin A. Hall (R., N.Y.) to ban the export of foodstuffs temporarily until it is determined that American consumers will be assured "the present amount of white bread."

Mr. Truman's plans for cutting American wheat consumption also drew questioning comment from other lawmakers unenthusiastic about the dark bread it would mean on the nation's menu.

Landon, 1936 Republican nominee for president, stepped into the incipient debate by attributing his food situation in Germany, at least, to what he termed the "cruel and inhuman" plan formulated by former Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau for treatment of the conquered Reich.

Morgenthau Replies

In New York, Morgenthau said: "I recommend that Mr. Landon buy a copy of my book and read it. He obviously doesn't know what he is talking about. I think his statement is vicious."

Officials who are in a position to know disclosed privately that the United States is seeking to arrange for the importation of at least 50,000 Mexican farm laborers on a temporary basis to help toward the coming harvest. The plan would be similar to that in effect during the war when the manpower pinch was tightest.

Had he introduced the bill running counter to Mr. Truman's proposals, is a member of the house agriculture committee. Besides seeking to assure the present amount of white bread in this country, it also would provide for distribution of sufficient grain to "areas of the United States now suffering from shortages of livestock and poultry feeds."

War Trial Prosecutors
Are Given Bodyguards

NUERNBERG, Feb. 8.—The U. S. Army announced today that personal bodyguards had been assigned to each of the United States, British, Soviet and French judges, alternate judges, prosecutors and assistant prosecutors at the international military tribunal.

Brig. Gen. Leroy H. Watson, responsible for security at the tribunal, said the move was a routine safety measure.

GIVE PACKERS
16-CENT OFFERRecommendation Is Made
By Federal Fact-Finding Board

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The government today offered a 16 cent an hour wage boost—tightly tied to larger subsidies or higher meat prices—as its prescription for settling the meat industry's wage dispute.

The plan, proposed last night by a federal fact-finding board, immediately ran into industry opposition, approval by the AFL union involved, and a non-committal attitude by the CIO.

Under its terms, five major packing companies were asked to raise the wages of 90,000 production workers 16 cents an hour, absorb five cents of the added labor cost, and receive added federal subsidies of price relief to cover the 11-cent balance. Companies involved are Swift, Armour, Cudahy, Wilson, and John Morrell.

Termed Unfair To Firms

In Chicago, the American Meat Institute, a trade organization, termed the fact-finders recommendation "unfair to the industry" and said the companies were unable to absorb any part of the proposed wage increase.

Officers of the amalgamated butchers announced that the wage proposal did not meet their demands but that workers' acceptance would be urged "at this time."

President Lewis Clark of the CIO packinghouse workers said he would call an immediate meeting of his national wage and policy conference in Chicago to act on the proposal.

"In the interim," Clark said, "we will watch with interest what action the government takes in order to implement the recommendation."

Under the fact-finding plan, the wage increase would be retroactive to Jan. 26—the date the government seized meat-packing plants. The packinghouse workers struck Jan. 16, in support of wage boost demands ranging up to 25 cents an hour.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said he would present the findings to the wage stabilization board today for approval.

The fact-finding panel held that the 16-cent increase would raise the meat industry's total costs by less than two per cent.

FOR FLORIDA
VACATION TRIPU. S. Steel Officials Hold
Secret Meeting With Philip Murray

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—President Truman today cancelled his contemplated vacation in order to deal with the continuing labor crisis.

The White House announced the President had abandoned his vacation plans "because of the immediate critical situation involving problems requiring his personal attention."

"The President has decided not to leave Washington at this time," the statement said.

Says Action Justified

The statement read: "The President has cancelled his trip to Florida and the cruise he had planned to take in southern waters because of the immediate critical situation involving problems requiring his personal attention."

"The President has decided not to leave Washington at this time."

"The President particularly regrets that he must disappoint the president and governing body of Rollins college, Winter Park, Fla., which had arranged to confer an honorary degree upon him."

"He also regrets that this change in his plans will necessitate a postponement of his meeting with Mr. Winston Churchill. He feels, however, that the unusual circumstances justify his action. The trip is therefore abandoned."

Earlier in the day, the President had resumed his personal efforts to quickly end the 19-day steel strike.

Confer With CIO Leader

U. S. Steel Corp. officers who have held secret conferences with CIO President Philip Murray over the past few days were non-committal.

Vice President John A. Stephens declined even to discuss his report to Mr. Truman, who summoned both Murray and Stephens to the White House late yesterday.

But Murray and top White House advisers spoke confidently of hopes that the new talks would bring a speedy end to the strike of 750,000 CIO steelworkers, the biggest single work stoppage on record.

Chester Bowles, OPA chief and a key figure in formulation of wage-price policy, who met with Mr. Truman late in the day yesterday, returned to the White House this morning for further conferences.

He left after a half-hour, declining further comment.

Some of those close to the secret negotiations said only the question of what date should apply stands between an 18-cent an hour wage increase agreement between the union and the U. S. Steel Corp.—bargaining in effect for the entire industry.

The 18½ cent figure was proposed by Mr. Truman on the eve of the strike, which began Jan. 21. The union accepted it then, but the steel corporation turned it down.

Boswell of The New Deal

Secretary of Interior Ickes has hoisted a sword of Damocles over Washington that will make more public figures than Edwin W. Pauley apprehensive. Disclosure of his habit of writing memorandums on conversations he considered important will cause many a brain to be wracked for recollections of what was said at one time or another to the Boswell of the New Deal.

The recording of his conversations with Mr. Pauley about title to oil lands is no juicier sample of what may be forthcoming than his notes on Ed Flynn, former party chairman. Secretary Ickes apparently did not relish Mr. Flynn and his way of doing business in the 1940 Democratic campaign—a pointed reminder that Mr. Ickes owes no political allegiance to the Democratic party. He was a renegade Republican brought to Washington as a personal appointee of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

It seems likely that when Mr. Roosevelt died, Mr. Ickes realized that the forthcoming change in party leadership would be likely to leave him high and dry. His anger on the train after the funeral services at Hyde Park when he alleges Mr. Pauley made "the rawest proposition that has ever been made to me" is believable. To him that may have been the first sign that his notes might be useful some day for something besides his own amusement.

Hunger-Sharing

The trial balloons sent aloft in Washington to test public opinion on further action to share Europe's hunger will float serenely. No one objects to the general principle of dividing the loaf with the needy.

The only objections among Americans to food relief for Europeans, or anyone else, are the result of misgivings about the consequences. In the American credo sharing is a manifestation of brotherly love. It is shocking to realize that in some of the credos in vogue in Europe brotherly love is a sign of weakness.

The United States has sent food to Europe during and after two wars. It has received in return the genuine gratitude of millions of the hungry and the hatred of those who saw in the food only one more provocation to want to destroy a land with bounty to spare.

No-doubt the haters are a minority. No doubt the United States will continue to earn brotherly love by showing it in tangible form. Europe needs food. Japan needs food. The English need food. But their politicians and other spokesmen do go about the business of getting it from us in curious ways. To hear them rant and rave and demand and castigate, one would think it was a crime for the United States to have something to share.

Lost Objectives

Suppose that the United States were a defeated, devastated, occupied country. And suppose that a wave of discontent approaching mutiny should sweep through the occupying troops. It is easy to imagine the secret exultation we should feel, and the secret activity that we should initiate. The first "we want to go home" demonstration would have been the signal for uniting and organizing efforts to exploit that discontent to the fullest.

There is no reason to doubt that the Germans are making an effort to cash in on this latest turn of our rather sorry performance as an occupying power. Our soldiers' discontent can scarcely have failed to put fat on the lean ribs of still-Nazi-minded citizens. And one may question whether the murder of several American Army men in various parts of our occupation zone shortly after the "we want to go home" demonstrations was merely a coincidence.

The fundamental trouble seems to be that many of our excellent objectives for Germany have not been followed through.

Not so many months ago a favorite topic of discussion was the length of time we should have to occupy Germany and Japan. Everyone agreed that occupation was necessary. But should it be for five, 10, 25 or 100 years?

Not long ago we were telling one another that the re-education of the enemy peoples would be a long and difficult task, but one which would have to be carried through with all the skill and energy we could muster if peace were to be made secure.

We were remarking sagely that force was the only language those peoples could understand, and that force must be demonstrated and maintained.

These policies and objectives have not been denied. Yet they have been lost sight of in a series of fumbling efforts to repair a formidable military machine that started breaking down almost as soon as the fighting stopped.

The confusion over demobilization, the apparent failure of the Army to provide its men overseas with adequate information and to maintain discipline, the obvious failure to procure replacements in sufficient strength—all these are but the latest in a series of mishaps.

The fault lies with the government, particularly its military branches, and also with the country as a whole. We tend, in Germany, to avoid an actual tackling of the hardest tasks of peace.

Such a reluctance, if prolonged, must surely injure our prestige among our recent Allies and the liberated countries. They, too, understand the language of force. And they see this country, a moral leader in the cause of world security, bogging down in one of the first tests of that leadership.

We can't assign our job to the United Nations Organization. It is not the UNO's business to police Germany and Japan, or to write and enforce peace treaties. That is up to the powers that conquered those countries. It is not only our duty but also to our advantage in world affairs to maintain equality of strength and efficiency with Britain and Russia in carrying out our assignments.

Search For Peace

An officer in a California Marine Corps recruiting station reports that re-enlistments are increasing weekly, and that many of the volunteers give civilian unrest and strife as their reasons for joining up again.

This is a sad way to get men for our peacetime armed services, badly as they are needed. It is a sad commentary on the country's appreciation of its servicemen's courage and sacrifices. If this reason for re-enlistment is general.

Thus far we haven't seen this reason credited to any except the Marines. Perhaps there's a reason. The Marines have fought hard. They haven't demonstrated to come home so long as they were needed, even when the fighting was over. They are an elite outfit, and proud of it. They also are traditionally a tough, two-fisted outfit. But we can't blame them for thinking that today, all things considered, their corps is about the most peaceable environment on earth.

The Little Things

Army pathologists have examined Mussolini's brain for a clue to the behavior of that unsavory assortment of bellowing bull, braying ass and skulking jackal which was Il Duce. So far they've found nothing extraordinary, but they are preserving a five-ten thousandth of an inch sliver of the brain for minute study and future reference.

We don't suppose that this tiny sample will be very revealing. But wouldn't it be ironical if, from this infinitesimal pinch of organism, science might discover what really accounted for the man who set the style in dictators, and encouraged Hitler to ape him and surpass him and start a war which was ended by the even more infinitesimal atom?

The Stars Say

For Saturday, February 9.

ALTHOUGH there may be a lively and exciting day, it will be difficult to make any progress or advancement, since the way seems to be blocked and full of turbulence and turmoil "on all fronts," home and love affairs, business, employment and but little encouragement is to be expected from elders, superiors or those in influential positions. Be particularly careful with words, spoken or written, as misunderstanding, enmity or rash acts may cause bitter regret.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may expect a lively and active year although it may be fraught with failure, turbulence, strife and loss, particularly should reckless words or deeds be unleashed, this in the home and love affairs as well as in business and employment, with superiors, elders or employers easily offended and who may withdraw all co-operation.

In all writings, messages, communications, spoken or written, exceptional precaution is urged, since lasting regrets, estrangements may be the penalty for carelessness in this respect. Keep moderate and temperate in all contacts.

A child born on this day should be given early training, discipline and development, lest its turbulent impulses cost it progress, estranging it from its elders and superiors.

Spring styles already are on show. The more change in women's clothes, the less in men's.

A bargain sale is an arrangement whereby a woman can have one dress torn off of her and buy another.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Amino Acids and Vitamins Aid Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THERE are many things which enter into the normal nutrition of the human body. Among the most important of these are the protein foods such as meat, milk, eggs, whole-grain cereals.

The proteins in these foods are broken down in the body into chemical substances known as amino acids and these amino acids are then utilized in rebuilding worn out tissues and in building new tissues in the growing child.

Presence of Vitamins
According to Dr. Max Jacobson of New York, there is some relationship between the use of amino acids by the body and the presence of various vitamins. Because of this possibility, a study was carried out using a combination of vitamins and amino acids which was given to the patients both by mouth and by injection.

About 1000 patients were treated for various diseases. An average of eight to ten injections was found necessary for success, although in most instances, according to Dr. Jacobson, a marked improvement was noted after the first few injections. Treatment by mouth was given either separately or combined with the injections and was continued after the injections were stopped.

Physical Exhaustion
The first patients treated were suffering from exhaustion, coming from physical strain, prolonged convalescence or recovery from infectious diseases and following operations. The preparation containing the vitamins and amino acids was also used for patients suffering from anemia or a lack of coloring in the blood and from poor nutrition.

It was noted that not only were the patients benefited physically, but there was also relief from nervousness and sleeplessness. Appetite increased and the patients seemed to be able to think more rapidly and clearly. Examinations of the blood were made which showed that there was an increase in the amount of coloring matter and the number of red cells which often developed after the first injection.

The preparation was given also to a number of workers in a defense factory, a department store and the nursing personnel of a hospital. It was found in these persons, too, there was a rapid rise in the coloring matter of the blood and the number of cells after treatment. There was a marked improvement in general health as well as a decrease in absences from work due to sickness.

Dr. Jacobson states that these persons also had increased resistance to infections of the nose and throat. Patients with some hearing disturbances were also treated and it was found that the treatment seemed to sharpen their hearing.

It would appear that the use of the amino acids and vitamins may have value in a number of different disorders.

Dr. Bundesen will answer letters containing medical questions only through his column. Address your inquiries to Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

France Asks Delay
In UNO Site Parley

By HELEN CAMP
LONDON, Feb. 8.—Russia and France expressed their approval today of the Stamford-Greenwich-Westchester area of Connecticut and New York as permanent headquarters of the United Nations, but France asked a long delay and a reconsideration of New York City as the interim site.

French Representative J. Fougere said, in a continuation of last night's debate in the permanent headquarters committee, the decision should be postponed until September next year.

Large foreign colonies in New York City and the fact that it is the largest city in the United States might present problems if it were the interim site, Fougere said.

New York has a huge Jewish colony. Suppose the Palestine question came up? Do you really think we could debate it in law and order? Do you think a question involving the United States could be discussed calmly and peacefully in the big city in the United States?

Chief opponent of the inspection committee's recommendations at last night's meeting was Australian Delegate W. R. Hodgson, who charged that the inspection committee "didn't do their job" and proposed that the selection of the site be left until September when the whole of the United States should be considered.

Hodgson, referring to the Greenwich-Stamford-Westchester area recommended by the inspection committee, declared: "They don't want us—we got no invitation."

GREENFORD

All persons in Green townships who have clothing for war sufferers are asked to take it between 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. to the Greenford apple storage building. All shoes should be wrapped inside some clothing and no packages are to exceed 50 pounds.

At the grange meeting Tuesday evening the third and fourth degrees were given three candidates.

The grange will sponsor a "Community night" Tuesday evening, Feb. 26. The public is invited.

Supt. A. J. Cobbs attended the superintendent's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Youngstown, Monday.

Miss Barbara Kindig visited last weekend with her sister, Margaret, in Cincinnati.

John Kropp has passed his army physical examination at Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlin Hendricks and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hendricks were Friday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hendricks.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Workman are the parents of a daughter born last Sunday.

Catre Clay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Clay, spent two weeks with her grandmother, Mrs. James Jones of Homeworth.

OSU Instructor Dies

COLUMBUS, Feb. 8.—George Allen Loomis, associate professor of ceramic engineering at Ohio State University, died yesterday. He was 57.

Associated with ceramic engineering for nearly 35 years, Prof. Loomis was the author of many technical papers on the subject.

Sink 114 Captured Subs

LONDON, Feb. 8.—The British navy sunk 114 captured German submarines since V-E day, A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, said today.

In a written reply to a member of parliament, Alexander said, "The reason they were sunk rather than offered to public tenders for breaking up is that we entered into an international agreement at Potsdam to sink them."

FORMER FEDERAL JUDGE IS CHARGED WITH "SELLING JUSTICE" TO LIMIT

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The house judiciary committee said today that former Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson of Lewisburg, Pa., "sold justice" in his court "for all the traffic would bear."

The committee reported to the house, however, that no purpose would be served in impeaching Johnson, because he resigned last July and subsequently cut himself off from a $10,000-a-year full-pay pension. He had served 20 years.

The justice department recently completed a separate 18-month grand jury inquiry into Johnson's conduct which resulted in indictment of Johnson, three of his lawyer sons and six others on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice. They have pleaded innocent.

30 Years On Bench

Johnson, 73 and father of 11 children, is a past Pennsylvania and national president of the patriotic order, Sons of America, a trustee of Bucknell university, an incorporator of Dickinson law school, holder of honorary degrees from a number of Pennsylvania colleges, and a veteran of 30 years on state and federal benches.

In its report on his conduct on the federal bench, the judiciary committee said:

The judge profited from fee splits through his son Donald, who bartered and sold justice as freely as a vendible commodity. In another section, it said Judge Johnson also "sold justice."

The committee reported that kickbacks from litigants who wanted favors or from men appointed to represent the court in receiverships were routed usually through a Scranton beer salesman, Jacob Greenes, to Donald Johnson. Greenes and Donald Johnson are among those under indictment.

EAST LIVERPOOL, Feb. 8.—Brand new "administrations" for East Liverpool, Wellsville and two neighboring communities in West Virginia were elected recently by Boy Scouts in each community.

BABY MURDER

questioned several times and told different stories concerning the whereabouts of the child and its paternity, prior to recovery of the child's body from the river near 19th st. in Wellsville. Mrs. Long was taken to the MacLean funeral home and identified the body of her child, the officer stated, and then led the officers to a spot at the river's edge opposite Third st., saying: "This is the place."

Mrs. Long had first stated that a friend, David Franklin, had taken the baby with him in his car and that she was to meet him in Canton the next day, but after investigation, the man who turned out to be David Franklin Harding, a railroad worker, was absolved. Mrs. Long then charged that E. O. McDowell of Cleveland, also a railroad worker, was the father of the child and that he had murdered the child. Officers who investigated said McDowell was not in Wellsville the night of the tragedy.

ple. In 1944 he made over 17,700 pounds, the demand for scrap metal that year probably being due to the meat shortage caused by the war. In normal years he makes about 5,000 pounds. People from over the district come to Salem to get "Lock's" scrap.

Fults, a native of Brownsville, O., has been a resident of Salem since he was four years old. He is a son of the late William H. Fults. For eight years prior to his death his father operated a meat wagon for the Fults market, selling from house to house.

Many of the Fults customers today dealt with the store during all of the 44 years. Some of the middle age customers have dealt with the store since the beginning of their married life.

Fults is a member of the Methodist church and the Masonic fraternity. He has one daughter, Mrs. Lawrence D. Beardmore, of Cleveland st., and one granddaughter, Miss Nan Beardmore, teacher in the Greenford High school.

About the first of March, Fults plans to go to Florida for a couple of months vacation.

Meeting Today May End Leetonia Plant Strike

LEETONIA, Feb. 8.—Crescent Machine Co. officials were scheduled to meet with union representatives this afternoon in an effort to reopen the Leetonia plant, employing 150 workers, which was closed by the management Monday afternoon after foundry workers refused to work on patterns brought from a Crescent Co. subsidiary foundry, now strike-bound.

The four-day-old shutdown, a result of management action because the plant is "balanced" and cannot continue regular production without the needed castings, has affected all workers in the plant. The union representing employees is the United Construction Workers Local 1750, a branch of the United Mine Workers of America.

It provides sparkling 100% soft water at a turn of the faucet with no attention from anyone in the household. Phone us today for further information. The savings are much greater than the cost.

So quick with dishes . . .

So kind to your pocket book . . .

Soft Water Service saves more than it costs. You'll use less than half the soap you use with hard water. Clothes and linens last longer. Plumbing and water heating bills are cut when hard water scale in the pipes is eliminated. You even save on tea and coffee made with soft water . . . about a one-third saving. Here's a problem for you, Watson. What living cost has DECREASED while nearly all other costs have gone right on rising?

Are there any clues, Holmes?

My dear Watson, the answer is at your finger-tip. What else gives you twice as much for your money as it did 20 years ago? What else is ready day or night, winter or summer, to lighten your tasks and make life more comfortable for you? What else gives you so much service for just a few pennies a day? What else, my dear Watson, but Electric Service?

Yes, Holmes—but WHODUNIT?

Strike Curb Bill Faces New Hurdles

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The Case strike control bill went to the senate today and immediately collided with prospects of rugged going. The 258 to 155 majority which rolled the potent measure through the house yesterday evidently was going to be no reliable guide as to the treatment the measure was due for on the other side of Capitol Hill. The bill was referred to the senate labor committee and several committee members thought it would be some time before the body would recommend any legislation. One member, Senator Morse (R., Ore.) called the measure by Rep. Case (R., S.D.) "ill-advised" and "a hodge-podge of legal prohibitions". Senator Taft (R., Ohio) said the mediation board proposed in the Case bill was not greatly different from the President's idea for fact-finding boards, except that it provides for representatives of the public, labor and management. He expressed doubt, however, that the senate would approve putting anybody but government representatives on such a panel. The Case bill, as approved by the house, calls for creation of a federal mediation board, which could step into major labor disputes and forbid strikes or lockouts for 30 days while it tried to settle them. The cooling-off period could be enforced by court injunctions.

Says Atomic Bomb To Result In New Industrial Period

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Feb. 8.—The world has seen the last of the atomic bomb as a military weapon, Dr. Gerald Wendt of New York City, Editor of Science Illustrated magazine, predicts.
Addressing nearly 1,000 persons attending the annual banquet of the American Society For Metals, the writer said he believed that as a result of atomic research the world was on the brink of another industrial revolution.
Widespread changes, he declared, would take place in modern civilization within the lifetime of the nation's younger generation.
The banquet was held in connection with the annual meeting of the 27th national metal congress which closes today.
Dr. Wendt warned in his address last night that since the United States caused a "wave of fear" to sweep the world after the atomic bombs were dropped, it was the nation's duty to abolish apprehension about the weapon.
He urged a more liberal release of information concerning nuclear energy to American industry to replace the present policy of "sticking our heads into the sand."

Fight Ends In Stabbing
EAST LIVERPOOL, Feb. 8.—Allegedly stabbed during an argument over a woman, Okey P. Michell, 30, of Newell, W. Va., was in City hospital today, suffering from a lung wound. A recently discharged soldier was involved in the quarrel.
He urged a more liberal release of information concerning nuclear energy to American industry to replace the present policy of "sticking our heads into the sand."

Oilers, Goodrich Win Fourth

McGaffick Registers 18 As Sinclair Trims Greenford; Jeffries Is Goodrich Star

The City Cab team was removed as a threat to the leaders in the Class A league last night at the Memorial building and the second round race became a two-club affair as Sinclairs and Goodrich chalked up their fourth straight victories.

Unable to penetrate a tight zone defense offered by Greenford, the Oilers found themselves trailing the visitors by a 9-5 count as the first period came to a close.

Ray "Goose" McGaffick and Bill Theiss each scored a fielder as the second frame got under way to knot the score at 9-9 and the Oilers moved ahead as McGaffick tallied again.

The Greenford zone crumpled as the Sinclair five poured 15 points through the hoop and the Oilers held a 20-15 margin at halftime. McGaffick netted eight points in the second period spree.

The game became a free-scoring affair in the finale with Sinclair meshing 16 points and Greenford 15. The final score was 44-34, Sinclair.

CLASS A STANDINGS

Legion	3	2	.600
City Cab	2	2	.500
Greenford	2	2	.500
Copeckes	1	2	.333
Zone Cab	1	4	.200
West Side	0	5	.000

Last Night's Results

Sinclair 44, Greenford 34
Goodrich 46, Zone Cab 30
Ohio Grill 23, City Cab 21
Legion 50, West Side 38

McGaffick rimmed seven fielders and made good on all of four free throws awarded him to register 18 points for high scoring honors while Blosser slipped in 11 for Greenford.

Goodrich Five Wins

Goodrich continued its winning ways with a 45-30 trouncing of the Zone Cabs.

After a slow first quarter, the Goodrich quintet got its highly-expected attack moving as Bob Jeffries and Bill Schaeffer showed the way. Goodrich held a 21-13 advantage at intermission.

The raven Jeffries was held to one field goal in the third frame as the Goodrich drive slowed but he cut loose for 12 in the finale as his team racked up 16 tallies to put the finishing touch on its fourth straight victory.

Jeffries, just rounding into the form which made him a league standard several seasons ago, totaled 23 points for the evening while Schaeffer notched 14 in his loop debut.

With both teams exhibiting a bit of a break of the Ohio Grill clock out a 25-21 win over the City Cab. The loss was the second of the round for the Cabbies and killed whatever title hopes they might have had.

The Cabbies moved into an early lead as the Grills' attack refused to function and posted an 8-4 lead at the first quarter. They still held their four-point advantage at halftime as both teams tallied four points.

The play of Bob "Dug" Scullion was all that kept the Grills in the game through the first two periods as the lanky guard made five of his team's eight point total.

Ice Game In Third Frame
A 10-point attack in the third frame sewed up the game for the Grills and made possible their third win of the round.

Scullion and Mike Thomas paced the Grills with seven points each while Ed Zilay totaled a like number for the losers.

The American Legion scored its third win by trouncing the winless West Side combine, 50-38.

Del Schaeffer was the shining light in the Legion attack as he rimmed 11 two-pointers and a foul toss for 23 points. Wayne Hahn topped the losers in the scoring column with 13 markers.

The Vets led all the way, holding an 11-6 advantage at the first quarter, a 26-14 edge at halftime and 36-24 lead at the three-quarter post.

Joe McCarthy, With Old Days Back Can Push Buttons to Lead The Yanks

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEW YORK—All Joe McCarthy has to do is press a button. That's what Jimmy Dykes used to say when the Yankees were roaring to one pennant and world championship after another.

What the envious manager of the White Sox meant was that the field marshal of the New Yorks could call for and obtain a capable replacement or turn on a cluster of runs at will. He was blessed with that kind of stock.

Needs Button

Well, McCarthy really will require push-buttons to direct the Bronx Bombers when they assemble in Florida this spring. There are so many of them that they will crowd two separate camps—at St. Petersburg and Bradenton, a ferry ride away.

With the exception of Red Rolfe, the championship clubs of 1941-42-43 have returned from the wars to pick up where they left off.

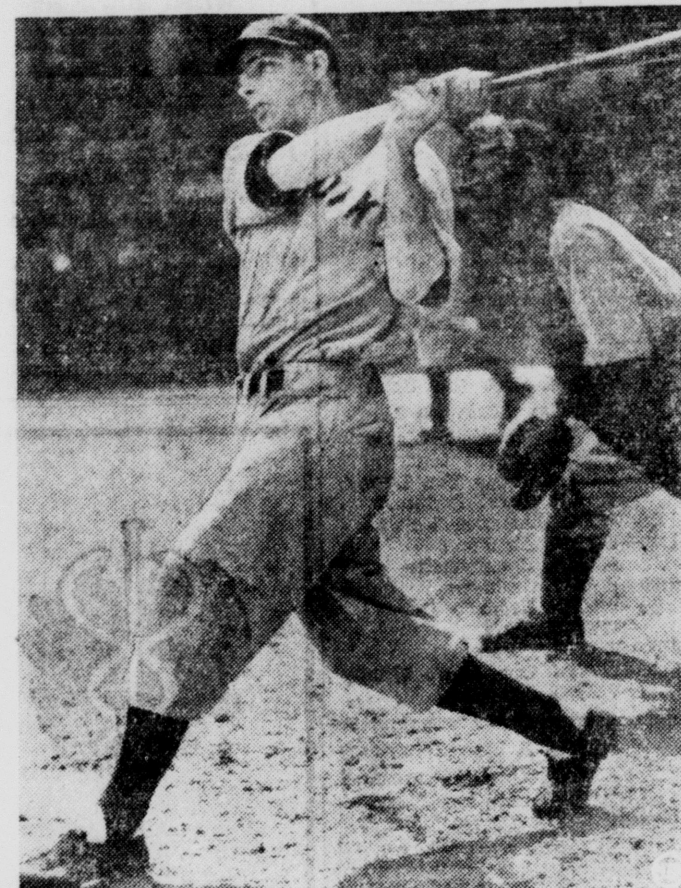

McCarthy's biggest headache lies in having his pick, but what manager wouldn't relish a problem like that?

With the incomparable second basing combination of Joe Gordon and Phil Rizzuto again making double plays, George Stinewiss, the American league batting and base-stealing champion, is left to fight it out with Bill Johnson and Henry Majeski at third.

Johnson was good enough to be the star of 1943 World Series, and when Johnson was at short and Majeski at third for Newark in 1942, the latter was rated by some as the superior infielder. He batted .345, drove in 121 runs. Just like that.

Three First Sackers

If McCarthy shuffles off to Buffalo next summer, he really will be sick. First basemen of three different championship clubs will be on hand with Nick Etten hard pressed to hold on, although he led the league in runs-batted-in last trip with 111. Johnny Sturm of the 1941 edition has priority under the G.I. Bill of Rights. The other one is Buddy Hassett, and Johnny Lindell may be brought in from center field to oust them all.

An outfield that has been compared to that of Speaker, Hooper and Lewis is to be intact again with Joe DiMaggio, King Kong Keller and Tom Henrich on the premises. Other flycatchers are Bud Mutheny

MACKENZIE'S Column

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP World Traveler

BRUSSELS, Feb. 8.—Little Belgium is one of the earliest of the countries to show signs of recovery among those which were trampled under the hob-nails of Hitler's soldiery.

This is one of the happy findings of the globe-trotting team of Mack and Mack, if we can use the word "happy."

You won't, I am sure, allow our happiness to give you the wrong slant. We must recognize that Belgium still is having a fierce battle with the economic elements, although there's a rainbow in the sky. Full recovery is a titanic task at best.

Anyway, it's good to be able to report that this country has its chin up and is getting ahead with the job. You wouldn't expect such a quick development in view of the fact that Belgium's economy has been so closely interlocked with the welfare of its neighbors, especially Germany and France, both of which are up to their necks in the slough of economic ills.

Belgium on the whole has a healthful diet, and food is plentiful enough so that there are few if any beggars—an excellent sign. There is no unemployment excepting where bomb damage has affected such skilled trades as the diamond cutting of Antwerp, the glass blowing of Liege and the lace making of Bruges. Indeed, domestic help is so scarce that in Brussels as many as three families are sharing one maid.

Wares are, at rough estimate, some 300 per cent above the prewar scale. This gain is more than offset, however, by an increase of between 400 and 500 percent (estimated) in the cost of living.

While the price of food is high, it's said to be plentiful enough so that, with the exception of meat, sugar and fats, rationing could be abolished. Meat runs about 65 cents to 95 cents per pound at the official rate, and is about three times as high on the black market. Bread, however, is only about nine cents for a two-pound loaf, and there are good supplies of fish and fruit.

Textiles are about three or four times prewar costs, but are fairly plentiful and the prices are coming down. Shoes are three times prewar level.

One of the most serious deficiencies has been coal, affecting both industry and the home, but the government announces that production has reached the prewar level of 80,000 tons a day.

As would be expected, the black market operators have been fattening on the sufferings of their fellows. However, the government has been giving these sharks such a hot run for their money that they are beginning to disappear and black market prices are falling.
